A MRS. FRANCES P. SIGEL is now in Washington, applying at the Pay Department for back pay for serving in the Western armies as a cavalryman. She says she enlisted in 1861, with her husband (a John Cleyton), in the Thirteenth Missouri Cavalry, and fought for two years as a cavalryman in our armies. She fought under Grant, Sheridan and Rosecrans. She was in the battles of Shiloh, or Pittsburg Landing, and Stone River, and at the latter battle her husband was killed and she severely wounded. Her sex thus became known and she was discharged the service. She has married since, and is now endeavoring to get the pay due her when discharged; but there is no law which would authorize her payment, females not being recognized by any as soldiers. Mrs. Sigel's appearance and manners cannot be said to be very prepossessing. She has evidently seen hard service in camp or elsewhere, and has contracted all the rude airs, attitudes and manners of a man. She wears a Scotch cap, cocked on one side of her head, chews tobacco, smokes and swears like a very trooper, as she claims to be. She is accompanied by her present husband. Both are very poor, and have been compelled to sleep in the station-house every night they have been in Washington. Altogether, Mrs. Sigel, who bears traces of having once been in better condition—even good-looking—presents a sad illustration of the effects of a woman stepping out of her natural sphere, to enter upon a career entirely foreign to the design of her creation. A friend asks: "Would she not be a valuable subject for the study of the advocate of what is called 'woman's rights?'"

SNOW SLIDE—TWO LIVES LOST.—Seldom a more painful task has fallen to our lot than that of penning this item, involving as it does the record of the death of two citizens. The wind blew heavily and the snow drifted correspondingly on the 12th, 13th and 14th, piling up immense drifts until along precipitous places their own weight caused them to give way, and in some instances with such power as to demolish everything less firm than the mountains. About a quarter of a mile up Long Gulch from Washington street, on the south side, a slide occurred about 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning, which resulted in the instant death of two brothers—Lewis B. and H. H. Rodgers. They occupied a cabin on the opposite side of the creek, but the gulch being narrow and the slide a large one, it mostly lanced over the channel and completely covered and crushed in the cabin in which the unfortunate brothers were living. They were both found together with every indication that they were sitting upon a bench in front of the fire-place cooking their morning meal. The chimney was of stone and thrown upon them, which weight alone would have proved fatal. Letters placed in our possession and written to the deceased reveal something of their family. One of date Nov. 2d, 1866, and written at Marysville, California, is from their father, J. P. Rodgers, who left Owyhee in July last.—Owyhee Avalanche, 19th.

A FAST YOUNG MAN.—The young Duke of Hamilton, the premier nobleman of "the kingdom of Scotland," and the representative of the Stuart family, three years ago succeeded to his title and an estate which realized $350,000 per annum. He took to horse racing and other means of lavish expenditure, and now he is a pensioner of his creditors, with every acre of his land, his palaces and town residences in the hands of Jew lenders, where they will probably remain until the next heir of entail succeeds to the title.

SUICIDE AT BELMONT.—On Monday, the 14th instant, a man named Richard J. Nalla, committed suicide at Belmont, in the Silver Bend District. While under the influence of liquor he went to his cabin, and after eating deliberately took off his coat, and sitting down on the side of his bed he placed the muzzle of a revolver to his forehead, and pulling the trigger killed himself instantly. Nalla was from Ohio, and about 24 years of age.—Reveille.

I clasped her beauteous form; I vowed to shield her from the wind, and from the world's cold storm. She set her beauteous eyes on me, the tears did wildly flow; and with her little lips she said, "Confound you, let me go!"

A celebrated French preacher, in a sermon upon the duty of wives, said: "I see in this congregation a woman who has been guilty of the sin of disobedience to her husband, and in order to point her out, I will fling my breviary at her head." He lifted his book and every female head ducked.

"The Howard Amendment" Once More.

In our last issue we stated as one objection to the "Howard Amendment," to the Anti-Polygamy Act, that the clause authorizing the trial and conviction of offenders by the Court, without the intervention of a jury, was transparently unconstitutional and could not, in our opinion, be enforced in any Court in the land. Such a provision would simply result in rendering entirely nugatory the whole law, and be a repetition of the farce which tends to bring the law and its administrators into contempt. We have very little doubt that Mr. Delegate Hooper, of Utah, will be perfectly willing to have such a law enacted, even, if for appearance sake, he does not openly advocate its passage.

We suggested in our former article that there were, to our mind, other though minor objections to the "Howard Amendment." Among these we think the 16th section is impolitic and will tend to render the whole Act inoperative, if retained. It reads as follows:

"Sec. 16. That every person, male or female, who shall knowingly and willingly aid and assist in or be present at such ceremony or rite of Mormonism, known as such sealing or spiritual marriage with intent to countenance, encourage and give effect to the same, shall be deemed guilty of a crime, and on conviction thereof, before a Court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished as last aforesaid, and the person or persons celebrating or solemnizing such ceremony, shall be punished as last aforesaid and by a fine of at least $1,000 each, and imprisoned at hard labor in the penitentiary for at least two years."

If the author of the bill had intended to draft something to give perfect impunity to the celebration of polygamic marriages, and to render entirely useless and void the whole law, we do not think he could have devised a surer way of accomplishing that result than he has evinced in section 16.

It places it absolutely out of the power of the prosecution to obtain any evidence of such spiritual marriages, by making all the witnesses particeps criminis. Without such a provision the Government could call as witnesses any person known or believed to be present at such prohibited marriage or sealing, and compel them to testify. With it, the witnesses one and all could and would take refuge behind the article of the Constitution which exempts them from criminating themselves. No witness could be compelled to answer, and the only possible way the Government could hope to obtain evidence on which to found an indictment or convict, would be to resort to the odious system of espionage and try to "ring in" its spies. A system we may say, very little inferior in dignity to that which it is designed to uproot, and one which does not commend itself very strongly to the moral sense of mankind in general.

The 16th section, then, in our judgment, ensures the defeat of any practical working of the law, and must operate as a serious check in its administration. The trouble is, in such matters, in the effort to make stringent measures, law-makers try to do too much; regardless of its practical workings, they overshoot the mark, o'er leap themselves and make all sorts of blunders. We hope that Congress will remember that polygamy and Mormonism have grown up to be a practical, live question, and should only be dealt with in that view. It is useless and worse than vain to undertake to run a Quixotic tilt against them. They cannot be either put down or repressed by either wordy fulminations against them or by impracticable or unconstitutional enactments. We are satisfied that it is just these things which have given the system strength and enabled the leaders to force it on the people. Because, heretofore, the Government has done nothing, or what it has done and the manner of doing it, have been so little adapted to the purpose, the people laugh and scoff, and begin to believe, not only that their leaders are right, but that the Government is in reality the impotent thing it is represented to be.

It should always be remembered by Legislators, as well as by Judges, that it is not so much the severity as the certainty of punishment which insures obedience to law. The law, as it stands now, on the subject of polygamy, is sufficiently stringent, perhaps, but is totally impracticable so far as enforcement is concerned. According to our view and for the reasons suggested, the "Howard Amendment" not only fails to remedy the defects which exist in the present law, but is not likely to be more effectual. The problem of Polygamy will remain a problem still, as difficult of solution as ever—and what is more, Congress will be laughed at for its pains.

INDIAN FIGHT.—Under date of Camp Lyon, January 11th, we have been supplied with the following account of a scout after Indians: On January 3d, Mr. Pickett, Beebe, and Express-messenger Phillips, with four Indian scouts, left Camp Lyon for the purpose of finding Indians, if possible. We traveled west from Camp Lyon until we struck the Owyhee river about twenty-five miles below Hill's Ferry, which place is named Big Bend or Big Canon. We then traveled down the river some twenty-five miles. On the evening of the 8th we saw twelve Indians with six horses. We commenced an attack on them by firing our pieces at them. Killed one Indian, captured two horses and destroyed several bushels of seeds. When we commenced firing on them they left post haste for the other side of the river.

This note was written by one of the party, and is another evidence that well directed search and a wish to find a fight will be rewarded with success.—Arcalanche.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

New York, January 24.

A. J. Meyer & Co., brokers, failed, and their account at the Bank of North America is overdrawn to the amount of two hundred and nineteen thousand dollars. The bank has to receive over three hundred thousand dollars. Jean P. Yelverton, President of the bank, died last night of apoplexy. It seems on yesterday application was made to the paying teller to certify to some checks of Meyer, but as the amount was large and no deposits in the bank, the officer declined to assume the responsibility. Yelverton, having the utmost confidence that deposits would be promptly made to meet the checks, certified to them. The loss sustained by the bank so worked on Yelverton's mind as to occasion his death. The friends of Meyer say he did not intend to defraud the bank, but was unable to meet the obligations in consequence of having sustained heavy losses. It is barely possible that a compromise may be effected.

New York, January 25.

The panic movement in Wall street continues; the exhaustion of margins by decline of yesterday, caused a heavy realization movement on leading stock at both Boards this morning, and further heavy decline in prices of Erie, which at one time touched 55; Michigan 66; M. W. 33, and common do. 57½. Subsequently the market rallied, upon the rumor that the Secretary of the Treasury had decided upon suspending contraction of currency, a dispatch of that nature having been exhibited, but its accuracy doubted. Money market a little closer towards close of bank hours, and capital not readily obtained at 7 per cent.

The failures among brokers and heavy decline in stocks during the past few days, induces a much greater caution on the part of banks. Among the numerous failures reported to-day, the only cases which at present appear authentic, are those of Howard, Lapsley, Reed & Chase and F. A. Van Dyke.

The Naval Committee of the House is making up its report relative to acting on the new Ironsides at League Island. Three examinations have been made into the loss of this vessel: 1st, by the Navy Department; 2d, by the Chief of Police of Philadelphia, and 3d, by Congress. Every person likely to know anything about the matter was examined, and the result of the whole investigation is that it is impossible to find out whether it originated by accident or incendiarism. Some facts seem to show very clearly that it could not have been occasioned by design, while on the other hand other facts indicate it must have been the work of an incendiary. Probably the cause of the fire can never be conclusively shown.

House—In Ashley's remarks he alluded to men holding seats on the Democratic side who co-operated with rebels. Findley took exceptions to the remark and denounced it as utterly untrue and a base and unfounded slander. Hunter, new member from Brooklyn district, added, so far as he was concerned, it is a base lie. Hill called Hunter to order, and the Speaker ruled that the words were out of order. Randall, of Pennsylvania, said it was nevertheless true. Hill moved a vote of censure against Hunter; carried, 84 to 34. The Speaker briefly administered the censure to Hunter, who stated that he used the language in a moment of irritation, but he intended no disrespect to the House. Ashley made an explanation of his remarks, which he intended should apply to those here or elsewhere, who, during or since the war, were in direct alliance with the opposition, who had worked against supplies, or discouraged enlistments and encouraged desertion, and organized a conspiracy to overthrow the Government; and he intended them to apply to no other. Adjourned.

Both Houses of Congress having, by report of Conference Committee, adopted the bill concerning appointment of pension agents, have sent it to the President. It removes all pension agents appointed since January last, and requires new appointments, subject to the confirmation of the Senate.

Trumbull, from Judiciary Committee, reported a joint resolution introduced early in the session by Wade, to amend the Constitution by prohibiting the re-election of any person to the office of President of the United States. Wade gave notice that he would call this up at an early day and ask the Senate to pass it, so as to submit it to Legislatures this winter.

The Tariff bill was resumed and Davis' amendment disagreed to. The bill was then taken out of Committee of the Whole, the next question being in concurring to amendment adopted in Committee, before proceeding farther. The Senate then went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

The Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer daily newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in the mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of this Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Territories.

WIFE'S UNEASINESS.—The following letter was received on Saturday, and we insert it in order that it may be seen by Mr. Breyfogle, who is now at Pahranagat. The letter has been promptly answered by us. The letter contained the notice we made in the VEDETTE of the 3d inst., in relation to the supposed massacre of a party of miners. A later date than the VEDETTE has announced the safe return of the party:

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 15, 1867.

EDITOR VEDETTE—Sir: The above extract has elicited the fears of Mrs. C. C. Breyfogle, of this city, that her husband, Charles C. Breyfogle, was one of the party alluded to, as the last she heard of him he was at Pahranagat, about the last of November, and was then about to start on a prospecting tour. If you know the names of the persons composing the party, you will confer a very great favor by writing a line to me, stating whether he is killed. His wife is much disturbed and in great suspense to hear more, even if her fears should be realized.

Very respectfully, yours, etc.,

B. F. STERITT,

533, Clay street, San Francisco.

QUIET SABBATH.—Yesterday was characterized by the usual quietude of the Sabbaths in Salt Lake City. The monotony of the day was only broken by the merry ring of sleigh bells, as the gay parties dashed past our office. The day was cloudy, the weather mild. The snow is fast disappearing from our streets and many, in order to enjoy a sleigh ride, were compelled to do so on the Sabbath or lose their chance.

INTERESTING EXPLAINED.—The "interesting female creature" is of the canine species. The Eagle says it is too young to be christened yet, but, when weaned from its milk, it will be called by the euphonious appellation of "Utah." In our local we did not expect or intend to create a flutter among our venerable Fogies, knowing that they are all, like Cæsar's wife, above suspicion.

SENATOR NYE.—The latest Nevada papers announce that Senator Nye left Virginia City for Washington, via San Francisco.

FROM THE WEST.

[From the Sacramento Union.]

San Francisco, January 18.

The following dispatch has been received here:

New York, January 16.

To J. W. Raymond, Agent: Avoid quarantine; no detention to steamer San Francisco.

W. H. WEBB, President.

Daniel A. Crosby, late Assistant Librarian of the Mercantile Library Association of this city, died recently of consumption at Manchester, N. H.

J. W. Huerlin, a California pioneer of '49, died here to-day of apoplexy.

The Montana to-morrow carries a fair load of passengers, and among her freight 4,000 sacks of California flour, purchased in this city by a gentleman from Steubenville, Ohio. Booth & Co. also ship 100 tons flour to New York.

A number of property holders on Montgomery street, above California street, have sent a protest to the Board of Supervisors, not wishing to be taxed for the extension of Montgomery street southward.

Judge Lake publishes a card denying that there is any defect in the title to the lot purchased for a Mint site on Fifth and Mission streets, and the agreement to purchase has been annulled by the Treasury Department, announced by telegraph.

The Active brings nearly $164,000 treasure from Victoria.

Some comment is called forth by the fact that the Sarsnac, on her up-trip from Mazatlan, brought over $38,000 treasure for merchants doing busines here.

A large lot of goods of all descriptions, including the Mexican woolen goods, and the largest mineral collection ever made on this coast, will be shipped to Paris by the Exhibition Committee by steamer to-morrow.

FROM NEVADA.—The Enterprise of the 22d contains the following items:

Julia Bulette, "a fair but frail" female, was found murdered in her bed on the morning of the 20th. No clue to the perpetrators of the

F. T. Wright, Superintendent of the Virginia and Gold Hill Water Co., was severely injured by his horse slipping and falling on him. His leg was broken below the knee, and his ankle badly injured.

Two miners in the employ of the Yellow Jacket Company, fell to cutting each other with knives, on last Monday, which resulted in one of them, named Lamb, being severely cut in the left side and shoulder.

A Chinese man in Boston tried the experiment of using nitrous oxide gas, recently, and has suffered permanent physical and mental injuries therefrom.

It is estimated that in the city and suburbs of Cleveland, Ohio, from 3,500 to 4,000 houses have been built in 1866, and yet there are no houses to rent.

PROFESSOR HENRY VETHAKE died in Philadelphia, December 14, aged seventy-five. He was one of the ablest mathematicians in the country and a famous chess-player.

GAME is very plenty in central Illinois this year. The slaughtering of prairie chickens, wild geese, brant, etc., is unprecedented.
